The CS500 model from IFAM combines the features of a high-security rim lock with the convenience of being able to use any long cam Euro profile cylinder.

Depending on the cylinder size, the CS500 rim lock can be installed on a wide range of door widths. The high level of security can be boosted further by adding a protective escutcheon to the lock.

The quality of its materials, the impeccable design and range of finishes that are available make the CS500 an excellent option for those needing the highest level of security on their door.
